This Time Tomorrow

At St Peter's we are trying to close the gap between the world of work, where most people spend much of their time, and the faith that guides the way they live. Here is the next in a series of articles that reveals what members of our congregation will be doing this time tomorrow; how their faith relates to their work and the challenges they face day by day...

I'm Clare (pictured here with my son George) and I have been a nurse for nearly thirty years. For the past eighteen I've been a sister in Intensive Care at St James's Hospital, Leeds. Jimmy's, as it is known, is one of the leading and largest teaching hospitals in Europe.

The hospital is situated in a diverse and deprived multicultural area with lots of socio/economic issues. This has a direct impact on the patient's health and the problems we treat. The life expectancy of people in this area is a decade less than in Harrogate! Intensive Care is a specialised area where patients have severe life threatening illness or injuries. The work is demanding and staff stress, sickness and burnout is high.

My approach to nursing and management of staff is driven by my Christian faith. It is challenged and called upon daily and without this I feel I wouldn't have the physical and mental strength to do my job.

Situations where my faith or belief is called upon and challenged include:

- caring for people involved in tragic and traumatic circumstances
- seeing suffering, grief and death on a daily basis
- making very difficult decisions on how to use the resources available
- being shocked and saddened by peoples' lifestyle choices
- being involved in withdrawal of life support.

Responsibility for patient, family and staff is at the centre of our decision making. I love my job and feel my Christian faith and values are always in my heart to guide me in my work.

Clare Wilde

The Collect for the First Sunday of Lent

Almighty God, whose Son Jesus Christ fasted forty days in the wilderness, and was tempted as we are, yet without sin:
give us grace to discipline ourselves in obedience to your Spirit; and, as you know our weakness, so may we know your power to save;
through Jesus Christ your Son our Lord, who is alive and reigns with you, in the unity of the Holy Spirit, one God, now and for ever.
or Heavenly Father, your Son battled with the powers of darkness, and grew closer to you in the desert: help us to use these days to grow in wisdom and prayer that we may witness to your saving love in Jesus Christ our Lord.

Green Your Life

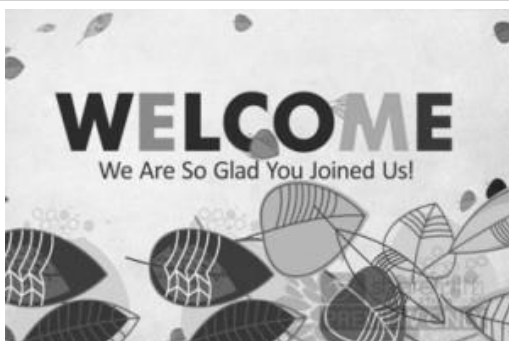

eco tip of the week

February – get to grips with your bills

More than half the money spent on fuel bills goes towards providing heating and hot water. Installing a room thermostat, a programmer and thermostatic radiator valves and using these controls efficiently could save you around £75 a year.

THE PARISH ELECTORAL ROLL

Anyone new to St Peter's (and has worshipped here for a period of 6 months) is eligible to register on the church Electoral Roll. Please complete a form and return to the office via a warden or member of the clergy. If you have already enrolled in the past few years, there is no need to complete a new form, unless your address has changed.

of the welcome cards in the pews and
